

Security cameras are being installed in schools all over the the United States. Not only do cameras protect students and teachers; but they help in identifying vandals/ thieves, bully activity, suspicious activity or acts of violence. Cameras installed in our schools give students, teachers and parents a sense of security. They help to halt violence before it starts. With cameras, school administrators have access to current and recorded activity. As a matter of fact, teachers believe the use of school surveillance cameras help improve behavior and even raise test scores! We are proud that our schools within the Washington Community School District are equipped with security cameras and the security that this offers.
